1.1 Introduction

The Separation Policy defines set procedures for handling all aspects of employee separation from ApMoSys – whether voluntary or involuntary. It is aimed to ensure smooth separation of the employees from the organization.

1.2 Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to have a fair and uniform framework of processes for managing the separation process of an employee. It states the procedures and responsibilities involved in the separation process for retirements, resignations, terminations and/or contract closures.

1.3 Objective

The objective of this policy is to ensure all separations are managed by the HR in a professional, ethical manner as aligned / requisitioned for complying to the applicable labour laws. It is envisaged to maintain the prescribed level of integrity on an organizational level – to safeguard employee and organizational interests.

1.4 Scope

The policy equally applies to all employees of ApMoSys, regardless of their hierarchy, terms of employment, position, department and/or type of employment

1.5 Policy Elements

1.5.1 Separation Types:

1.5.1.1 Employee Initiated (Voluntary Resignation) – Employee decides to separate from the organization and submits his/her resignation.

1.5.1.2 Employer Initiated (Non voluntary or Termination)

1.5.1.3 Retirement

1.5.2 Process flow for Employee Initiated (Voluntary Resignation)

1.5.2.1 Any employee who is intending to separate from the services shall tender his/her resignation in advance as per the terms and agreement specified in the appointment letter

1.5.2.2 Employee shall tender the resignation to his / her immediate reporting manager keeping the respective HOD, HR and egress@apmosys.com in the loop of communication

1.5.2.3 Post the employee submitting the resignation, efforts will be made to retain the employee in the services of ApMoSys. The designated HR shall have structured meeting with the employee to hear his/her concerns and reasons for separation

1.5.2.4 The HR shall submit the report of discussion to HR Head to start the further process – either of retention or separation. In case of retention the necessary actions shall be taken care by HR in alignment with the respective reporting manager and head of department of the employee

1.5.2.5 In case of employee being firm on the decision to separate, the needful process shall start towards the separation. The employee shall serve the full Notice Period as per the appointment terms and conditions and/or amendments thereafter. Employee shall not be allowed to take any leave while serving notice period (except in unavoidable medical exigencies) Any leave taken during notice period will result into an extension of notice period by equivalent number of days

1.5.2.6 During the notice period, it's the sole responsibility of the outgoing employee and reporting manager, to ensure all current jobs / work on hand are successfully completed

1.5.2.7 The employee shall also ensure that the handover is done properly; all the information/documents relevant to the role / job are handed over to the assigned person/manager before getting relieved from their services

1.5.2.8 An employee serving his/her notice period shall not be entitled under any circumstances to any benefits of Performance Management Process. The HR Heads decision shall be final and binding in such case

1.5.2.9 On the employee's last working day, employee shall hand over the IT, Admin and any other assets issued to him / her during the employment period. The employee shall also get the No Objection Certificate (NOC) signed from the relevant and respective authorities as a part of Full and Final Settlement requirements

1.5.2.10 On the closing hours of the last working day, the employee's service shall cease and he/she shall be relieved from the services of ApMoSys with requisite relieving documents issued by the HR

1.5.3 Process flow for Employer Initiated Separation (Involuntary Termination)

1.5.3.1 This process may be initiated for an employee upon receiving / having documented evidences of consistent and deliberate occurrences of underperformance, behavioural issues, misconduct, chronic absenteeism, organizational restructuring, legal violations, etc.

1.5.3.2 Any breach of code of conduct, performance related concerns and/or deviations as above shall be updated to HR by the concerned HOD. HR shall gather all evidences, perform the needful consultation to experts and then shall initiate the disciplinary action as per set process which may lead to the employee's separation.

1.5.3.3 HR shall also explore other means in an effort to avoid the non-voluntary separation of the employee.

1.5.3.4 Usually under this policy, the employee shall be relieved from ApMoSys with immediate effect to protect / safeguard organisational interest. The employee shall ensure to complete all the exit formalities, failing which his/her Full and Final settlement may be affected.

1.5.3.5 The employee shall be issued and termination letter on the day of exit, whereas Full & Final settlement will be done after 45 days from the exit date.

1.5.3.6 In case an employee is not reporting to the office for consecutive 3 days without informing his/her Head/reporting manager, this should be informed to the HR on immediate basis. HR in turn will issue an absconding notice to the employee. Employee is expected to contact respective Head/HR within 72 hours of receiving absconding notice. If not done so, then HR will issue termination notice to the employee. Salary of such cases will be kept on hold till further revert from the employee and his/her Head.

1.5.4 Retirement:

1.5.4.1 Every employee will retire from the services from the company on attaining the age of superannuation i.e. 58 years, as per the date of birth recorded in the company's records.

1.5.4.2 In such cases employee shall receive relieving letter on the last working day, The Full & Final settlement shall be carried out as per the applicable process.

1.5.5 Full & Final Settlement:

1.5.5.1 Full and Final settlement shall be done for all separation cases, whether voluntary or non-voluntary

1.5.5.2 Full & Final settlement shall be processed subject to successful completion of exit formalities. The Full & Final settlement amount shall be computed by HR as per laid down policy and procedures. The entire payment is done in the month following the exit month subject to recovery of mobile bill, Petty cash, Company asset damages, credit card settlement and any other due receivable from the separated employee.

1.5.5.3 Every employee is expected to serve the applicable notice period in full, However, if any employee wishes to separate early (without serving the full notice period) the amount equivalent to the unserved Notice Period and/ Agreement Dues shall be recovered from the employees full and final Settlement Amount.

1.5.5.4 The full and final settlement shall be processed after 45 days from the last working day of the employee, and the payment shall be released along with the regular salary cycle. The Experience Letter shall also be issued along with the Full and Final settlement.

1.6 Conclusion
